First Baptist Church
columbia

If you sense that God is drawing you to the community of First Baptist, we celebrate that and we want you to have a chance to get to know our church! First Baptist 101 is a class that is open to adults who are new members or for those who are interested in learning more about First Baptist. We will try to answer questions like:

- What does it mean to be a member of First Baptist?
- What does it mean to be Baptist?

First Baptist 101 will meet for one-hour on three consecutive Sundays beginning September 30 at 4:00 pm, in the Parlor, which is located on the 2nd Floor across from the church offices.

Here is an overview of each week:

- Sunday, September 30- Understanding First Baptist leadership structure, the church staff, committees, goals, and vision of the church taught by Pastor Carol McEntyre
- Sunday, October 7- Baptist History and Polity taught by Rev. Bob Russell
- Sunday, October 14- Overview of First Baptist ministries, opportunities to serve, and a building tour

For more information, or to sign-up for child care, contact Pastor Carol McEntyre at mcentyre@fbc-columbia.org or call the church office at 573-442-1149.

Fall Sermon Series: Speaking of Jesus

When was the last time you had a spiritual conversation? If recent research is any indication, it has probably been a while. Only seven percent of Americans report talking about spiritual matters weekly. One-fifth of respondents had not had a spiritual conversation all year! We are more likely to talk about a movie we have seen or a book we have read than our spiritual lives. So, I have been wondering: Can progressive Christians learn to speak of Jesus again? Join us for a sermon series that explores this question, September 23-October 14.

CDC Work Day

anna provoand Jason Tratchel haul mulch while Stephen Hoell tackles the wall of weeds.

CDC Playground Clean-Up Night

The Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Child Development Center sponsored a playground clean-up night. Parent and board volunteers brought their favorite garden tools and helped spread mulch, trim branches, pick weeds, and much more! We even had a First Baptist church band member join in the fun. Thank you to all who came and worked hard to get our playground ready for the school year. Special thanks to Stephen Hoell and Janna Gates for organizing this event.

A job well done. Two dump truck loads of mulch spread, a fence fixed, weeds pulled, and equipment repaired. The playground is open for business!

List Making as a Spiritual Practice

Remember the wondrous works God has done, all his marvelous works, and the justice he declared.

1 Chronicles 16:12 (CEB)

I am a list maker. I know this is not something everyone can relate to, but lists are kind of my thing. When I was in school, my favorite activity was to collect all my syllabi and make a master list of what needed to be accomplished each week. I lived for syllabus day. Now, I begin each workday making a list in my bullet journal (a planner I made specifically for list making) about the goals I want to achieve and the tasks I needed to accomplish. If this wasn't crazy enough, I have a list for all the books I want to read, the movies I have seen this year, and pens I have in my collection (in color order of course!).

Until recently, I saw list making simply as a practical way of bringing order to an otherwise chaotic life. I have found, when it is written down, I am less likely to forget. This is where the spiritual practice comes in. I am notorious for remembering past failures and forgetting past successes. I can easily recall the past experiences when I have felt overwhelmed, inadequate, and underprepared, while I struggle to talk about moments when I have overcome adversity, responded well to criticism, and walked into a space confident and secure. Theoretically, I know the positive moments at least tie if not outweigh the negative. But practically, I don't remember it. As a practice, I now write down successful movements. Each time I feel the steady hand of God guiding me, I have a powerful experience that confirms my call, I am proud of how I responded to a situation, I write them down. This way, when I face another difficulty, I have something to look back on. I can see how I have made it through chaotic moments before and can remember the glimmers of God's faithfulness throughout.

As I have come to see it, this practice can be found all throughout scripture. For example, in 1 Chronicles 16, David crafts together three psalms to form a beautiful song of praise. In it, David recounts how again and again, God has responded faithfully to God's people. He recalls God's covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. He reminds them, that even when they were few, God cared. Essentially, David was making a list. "Remember," challenges David, "Remember the wondrous works God has done." Beloved, may we too remember those moments when God's wondrous work seems undeniable. And maybe, if you're as forgetful as me, may you too make a list.

Giving Update

Thank you for giving! Your gifts help fund our mission's efforts, church ministries, pastors' salaries, and our beautiful facilities. Through the end of August, we have received about $212,000 in pledges and unpledged gifts, which puts us a little behind where we should be at this point of $248,000.

Staff Change

The personal committee wants to advise the congregation that Janet Deneke is no longer with the church in her role as Administrative Assistant.

We deeply appreciate her care and concern for our members and ministries. We wish her much success and know that she will continue to maintain friendships with many of you.

Thank you,
Charles Hunter, Chair Personnel Committee

Special Odyssey Concert Event That Promised Land: The Journey of the African American Spiritual

Friday, October 5, 7:30 pm, Second Missionary Baptist Church

A special presentation and production of the musical segment beginning with field/work songs all the way to the arranged spirituals of H. T. Burleigh, Margaret Bonds, and Moses Hogan, to name a few. Co-curated by Dr. Maya C. Gibson and Dr. Stephanie Shonekan, this concert features former Chanticleer member Marques Jerrell Ruff and special guest soloist, international Opera, Jazz and Gospel artist Jolie Rocke Brown, with MU's Assistant Director of Choral Activities, Dr. Brandon A. Boyd on the piano. This concert is sponsored by the Second Missionary Baptist Church. Admission is free but donations are gratefully accepted.

Odyssey Concert Event- Oktoberfest

October 12, 2018 (Fri) 7pm, First Baptist Church

with a Pre-concert Performance at 6:45pm – TBA

We are taking the spirit of Oktoberfest in this jovial German program. In addition to trumpet-piano duo by Iskander Akhmadullin and Natalia Bolshakova, violist Marka Gustavsson from Bard College, New York is featured prominently in a program of duo and Brahms Piano Quartet No. 1 in G Minor – which concludes with a real barn burner, "Rondo alla Zingarese."

Afternoon at the Farm

Sunday, October 21st

We are looking for some volunteers to help set up for Afternoon at the Farm this year. We need 6-10 people who are available to head out to the farm the Saturday before to help set up tables and chairs, do some weed eating and mowing, and get the farm ready for fun. If you are able to help, please contact Michael McEntyre or Janet Kieffer to volunteer.

Fellowship Groups Kick-Off Sunday, September 23, 5:00pm

Are you interested in forming deeper friendships with others in the First Baptist community? Would you like to have a small group where you can converse openly about your faith journey? That's the goal of the Fellowship Groups.

Fellowship Groups are low-prep groups of 6 to 8, designed to bring people together to discuss four questions provided by the teaching team. Sample questions include: "In what ways has a past mistake led to your personal growth? And "where in your life do you need to be brave?" Each group will meet monthly six times for fellowship and conversation.

There is still time to sign up before the kick-off, September 23, where groups will be announced! You can sign up by picking up a form in both worship spaces or by emailing Pastoral Resident, Brittany McDonald Null at bnull@fbc-columbia.org

We are excited to announce that sign-ups are open for the Civil Rights Pilgrimage, which will take place November 9-13. First Baptist is partnering with Second Baptist and Broadway Christian Church to offer this opportunity to tour many significant civil rights sites in the South, including the National Civil Rights Museum at the Lorraine Hotel in Memphis, TN, the site where Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated. Space is limited to just 40 participants. Registration is due by September 24. For more information contact Pastor Carol McEntyre at mcentyre@fbc-columbia.org or 442-1149.
